This program is for undergraduates who have completed a bachelor's or graduate degree. Undergraduates who will be graduating in 2012 or later may not be eligible. This will be the third summer that the NSF will provide funding for SUR fellowships. In 2011, 15 undergraduate SUR fellows will report to one of the more than 450 summer sites, and all students will participate in a variety of NSF-funded research activities. Although this program will be available to undergraduates who are not currently in college, most of the participants will be undergraduates who will be attending one of the summer academic sessions at NSF-supported institutions. The Summer Research Support Program was initiated in 1994 to support the development of independence and professional potential in undergraduates participating in NSF-supported summer research projects. This program was renewed in 2004 through ARRA. In addition, the Summer Research Support Program provides an opportunity for undergraduates who are enrolled in NSF-supported summer programs, academic programs, or summer school programs to participate in NSF-funded research projects.Q: How to use a different schema in dapper Can I use a different schema/different DB in dapper?
